

Basic Copyright Statement

1. Processing of Submitted Data

By submitting an abstract and/or full paper to the IFSCC Congress, authors agree that their materials may be forwarded to the independent reviewers and, subject to their approval and the finalization of the program, may be included in the official Proceedings, congress app/website, IFSCC archives, and used for aggregated, anonymized scientific analyses to identify general research themes and trends in cosmetic science.

Please note that submitted abstracts may be processed using artificial intelligence (AI) to support their categorization and assignment to appropriate topics, scientific sessions, or reviewers. AI is used solely as an assisting tool and does not make decisions regarding the acceptance or rejection of abstracts.

Trend analyses will be conducted strictly at a collective, non-attributable level and will not identify individual authors, institutions, companies, or specific works. No confidential or proprietary technical data will be disclosed.

Submission data is collected by the Swiss Society of Cosmetic Chemists (SWISS SCC), as Congress host, under Swiss law, and may be transferred to the International Federation of Societies of Cosmetic Chemists (IFSCC), governed under Swiss law, for the purposes described above and in compliance with applicable data protection legislations.

Authors retain full ownership of their intellectual property.

The above-mentioned rights shall be granted without compensation.

2. Intellectual Property and Personal Rights

The authors warrant that:

2.1 They are the holder of all the rights required for the abstracts, posters, papers and/or lectures as well as the rights granted under point 1.

2.2 The submitted material and all related attachments are free from any third party rights which could impede granting said rights that are object of the present agreement.

2.3 The submitted paper has not been previously published.

2.4 No third party personal rights are violated by the use of the materials within the framework of the present agreement.

3. Indemnification

The authors agree to indemnify the organisers of the 37th IFSCC Congress 2027, regarding all third party claims, particularly any claims based on the alleged violation of copyrights or personal rights, brought against the organisers of the 37th IFSCC Congress 2027 in connection with the exercise of the rights being the object of the present agreement. The organisers of the 37th IFSCC Congress 2027 shall be entitled to take any suitable steps to defend themselves against third party claims, or to enforce their legal rights. Any such steps shall be taken following prior consultation between the authors and the organisers of the 37th IFSCC Congress 2027. The indemnification also covers the reimbursement of any costs incurred by the organisers of the 37th IFSCC Congress 2027 as a result of the legal enforcement or defence of its rights.
